

The Suttie Group

Passionate about people, partnerships and performance

Chief Production Geologist – UG - Mexico

The Suttie group is working with a well-funded silver producer in Mexico who has a current opportunity for a Chief Geologist who is an expert in underground drilling, exploration, mapping and sampling.

We are seeking a “hands-on” manager who will be responsible for overseeing the mine's geological survey, exploration, mining and industrial production activities as well as safety rules, policies and supervision and coordinate the activities of the mine geologists and samplers.

Requirements:

Fluent in Spanish

Degree in Mine Geology with at least 10 years recent underground production experience.

Strong computer skills in AutoCAD and Vulcan, MapInfo would be an asset.

Proven leadership skills, proactive work ethic, performs well under pressure and understands the need to be in the mine approximately 4 hours/day to oversee and ensure production meets desired results.

If the above describes you please submit your resume in Word (not PDF) format to Elizabeth via the www.Suttiegroup.com website.

Your confidentiality is assured and we look forward to representing you.